

US State Department and USAID Are Being Sued Because of $5-Million Of Taxpayers' Money Given To George Soros' Organization

written by GEG | April 21, 2017

Judicial Watch is suing the State Department and the US Agency for International Development to obtain records relating to $4.8 million in American taxpayer money that went to George Soros' Open Society Foundations. Although the OSF says the money was used for praiseworthy causes, the truth can be seen in what the recipients of these funds actually do.
