

Missouri Attorney General Takes On Google, the Most Powerful Company in the History of the World

Google shapes how we understand the world, and it can make entire events disappear from history. Missouri Attorney General Josh Hawley is investigating Google for consumer protection and anti-trust violations. Peter Theil, the co-founder of PayPal donated $300,000 to AG Hawley's campaign fund, and some are speculating he is trying to break up Google.