

Harvey Weinstein Hired Former Israeli Spies to Prevent Exposure in the Press

written by GEG | November 8, 2017

Harvey Weinstein, who has been accused of rape and sexual assault by scores of actresses, used a company that employs former Israeli spies and the Israeli Defense Force to discourage his accusers and journalists from going public with their accusations. Weinstein reportedly used his connections at the National Enquirer tabloid to gather 'unfavorable' information on Rose McGowan, who was instrumental in exposing him. GEG.
