

Alabama Democrat, Doug Jones, Defeats Judge Roy Moore in Race for Senate

Alabama elected Democrat, Doug Jones, in a tight race against Judge Roy Moore who was the target of a smear campaign by Democrats, the media, late-night comics, and George Soros. Jones will occupy the Senate seat for two years that was vacated by AG Jeff Sessions. The Senate is now composed of 51 Republicans and 49 Democrats. [That is not as important as it may seem, because there is no conflict between the two parties on most important issues, such as US sovereignty, the Federal Reserve, and privacy. The leaders of both parties support global government, fiat money, and the surveillance state.] - GEG
