

George Soros Exposed as an Agent of the Rothschild and British Oligarchy

This investigative report, written in 1996 by F. William Engdahl, explains how George Soros amassed his fortune through deception and manipulation and that he is the front man for elites known as the 'Club of Isles' who literally rule the world. The Rothschilds and a network of wealthy British and European oligarchs, centered around the House of Windsor, funded George Soros' first hedge fund, and he is the visible arm of their operations. He funds political movements covertly through foundations and has never made a major investment without inside information. -GEG

Time magazine has characterized financier George Soros as a "modern day Robin Hood," who robs from the rich to give to the poor countries of eastern Europe and Russia. It claimed that Soros makes huge financial gains by speculating against western central banks, in order to use his profits to help the emerging post-communist economies of eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union, to assist them to create what he calls an "Open Society." The Time statement is entirely accurate in the first part, and entirely inaccurate in the second. He robs from rich western countries, and uses his profits to rob even more savagely from the East, under the cloak of "philanthropy." His goal is to loot wherever and however he can. Soros has been called the master manipulator of "hit-and-run capitalism."

As we shall see, what Soros means by “open,” is a society that allows him and his financial predator friends to loot the resources and precious assets of former Warsaw Pact economies. By bringing people like Jeffrey Sachs or Sweden’s Anders Aslund and their economic shock therapy into these economies, Soros lays the groundwork for buying up the assets of whole regions of the world at dirt-cheap prices.

One-Fifth of El Salvador’s Population Lives in the US, Trump Says They Must Go Home

There are currently an estimated 1.1 million El Salvadoran migrants living in the US, which represents 19% of the country’s population, which was reported to have 5.7 million individuals in 2007. The migrants are part of the ‘Temporary Protected Status’ program that was established after an earthquake in 2001. The Trump administration told 200,000 Salvadorans to pack their bags and return home.

Salvadoran immigrants in the United States.

The number represents about one-fifth (19.1 percent) of the total population of El Salvador (5.7 million in 2007 according to the Salvadoran Department of Statistics and Censuses).

On Monday the Trump administration told 200,000 Salvadorans to pack their bags and head back home.

The New York Times reported:

Nearly 200,000 people from El Salvador who have been allowed to live in the United States for more than a decade must leave the country, government officials announced Monday. It is the Trump administration's latest reversal of years of immigration policies and one of the most consequential to date.

Homeland security officials said that they were ending a humanitarian program, known as Temporary Protected Status, for Salvadorans who have been allowed to live and work legally in the United States since a pair of devastating earthquakes struck their country in 2001.

Salvadorans were by far the largest group of foreigners benefiting from temporary protected status, which shielded them from deportation if they had arrived in the United States illegally. The decision came just weeks after more than 45,000 Haitians, the second largest group, lost protections granted after Haiti's 2010 earthquake, and it suggested that others in the program, namely Hondurans, may soon lose them as well. Nicaraguans lost their protections last year.

Why Is Trump Now Supporting DACA, and Why Haven't Republicans Funded the Wall?

Tucker Carlson says the immigration policy of lawmakers over the past 30 years has been to grant amnesty to illegal aliens while promising future border controls that never materialize, and he says that policy continues today. President Trump won the election by promising to reform immigration, but now he is pushing DACA, and Republican lawmakers are supporting the same bad deals of the past.
