Twitter Is Willing to Give Trump's Private Messages to DOJ Without a Warrant

written by GEG | January 11, 2018

James O'Keefe of Project Veritas reveals that Twitter is ready to hand over President Trump's private messages to the Justice Department. O'Keefe obtained undercover video of Twitter engineer, Clay Haynes, saying "We're more than happy to help the DOJ with their little investigation." He describes in chilling detail just how much information Twitter gathers on literally everyone — including deleted messages. He says that what they do is 'very Big-Brotherish."

California Judge Blocks Effort to End DACA
written by GEG | January 11, 2018

After Trump's televised meeting on the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals DACA program, a federal judge in California blocked the Trump administration from rescinding it in March. The judge ruled that deportation protections must remain in place until legal challenges work their way through the court system. [There is a lot of uncertainty in the wake of Trumps reversal of position, but one thing is clear; immigration reform is now an empty phrase.]

Leaked Memo: Dreamers Are "Critical" to "Future Electoral Success" of Democrats

written by GEG | January 11, 2018

The Center for American Progress Action Fund, founded by Clinton operative, John Podesta, sent out a memo that reads, "If Democrats don't try to do everything in their power to defend Dreamers, that will jeopardize Democrats' electoral chances in 2018 and beyond." [President Trump knows this better than most and, by supporting DACA, has knowingly handed the Democrats a powerful advantage in future elections.]

Trump Breaks Campaign Promise on Immigration, Promises to Pass Any DACA Bill Drafted by Those Who Opposed His Campaign

written by GEG | January 11, 2018

DACA allows 700,000 people to stay in the US who were brought in illegally when they were children. Trump now says he will accept any bill that Congress presents to him, which is a total abandonment of his promises to end DACA, stop chain migration, and build the wall. [Those who voted for him because of these promises have been betrayed again.]
