

LGBT Classes Now Are Mandatory for Elementary School Children in California

written by GEG | January 2, 2018

California soon will be using textbooks that present LGBT themes in an “inclusive and respectful” manner. These courses, which are mandatory, will begin with second-graders and continue throughout the educational experience. Text-book publishers are scrambling to include as many historical figures as possible about whom there has been LGBT speculation. [Continuous and focused speculation on this issue, especially when presented in school and associated with historical figures, will encourage children to see LGBT as the new American role model. This is not an unintended consequence.] -GEG