

Somali Immigrant Who Became Minnesota Police Officer Charged with Murder

Minneapolis: Mohamed Noor, a Somali who entered the US as a refugee and later became a police officer, shot and killed an Australian woman in 2017 and now has been charged with murder. According to the criminal complaint, the woman called 911 on a July evening last year to report a possible sexual assault taking place near her apartment. She was in her pajamas as she walked out to the police car, and Officer Noor, who said he got 'spooked', shot her. Noor was an affirmative-action 'diversity' hire and was fast-tracked onto the force under an "accelerated police cadet program."

A Minneapolis police officer has been charged with murder in the highly controversial 2017 shooting of Justine Damond, an Australian national who was living in Minnesota with her fiancée.

Mohamed Noor, a Somali who entered the U.S. as a refugee, turned himself into authorities after a warrant was issued for his arrest, and he was charged with third-degree murder and second-degree manslaughter eight months after the killing of Ms. Damond.

According to the criminal complaint, Ms. Damond called 911 on a July evening last year to report a possible sexual assault taking place near her apartment.

Noor and his partner, Matthew Harrity, arrived on the scene and were sitting in their vehicle when Ms. Damond approached, clad in pajamas and clutching her cell phone. Noor was reportedly 'spooked' by her presence, and fired his service weapon across Harrity, through the driver's window, striking Damond in the abdomen.

Officer Harrity has testified that 32-year-old Justine Damond's final words were "I'm dying" or "I'm dead," as she clutched her wound.

"Officer Noor recklessly and intentionally fired his handgun from the passenger seat, a location at which he would have been less able than Officer Harrity to see and hear events on the other side of the squad car," asserts Hennepin County Attorney Mike Freeman, adding that there was no evidence Noor "encountered, appreciated, investigated or confirmed a threat that justified the decision to use deadly force."

Official descriptions of Noor's charges include, "Perpetrating Eminently Dangerous Act and Evincing Depraved Mind" and "Culpable Negligence Creating Unreasonable Risk."

The incident triggered international outrage, which was further fueled after revelations about Officer Noor's background and career came to light.

It was discovered that Noor, who comes from a family of Somali refugees, was not only recruited as an affirmative action diversity hire, but was also fast-tracked onto the force with only seven months of training under his belt at great cost to taxpayers under an "accelerated police cadet program."

Read full article here...

UK Rape Cases Result of Immigration that Increases Votes for the Left

Stefan Molyneux delves deeply into the moral bankruptcy of a globalist movement that willingly sacrifices little girls on the alter of multi-culturalism and internationalism. This is an impressive monologue that challenges us to put aside the hard facts of the Telford immigrant sex gangs and ponder the depravity of those who protect and sustain rape, torture, and murder for political gain. A classical call for moral indignation and a personal declaration of war against pure evil. Well worth 27 minutes. -GEG

G. Edward Griffin Explains

How the Civil Rights Movement Was Used to Promote Goals of Communism

G. Edward Griffin describes how he learned about communist theory and strategy by reading communist books. He explains that Marxism is mostly about social and political theory, while Leninism is about overthrowing governments and coming to power. The first step in a communist-style revolution is to create discord between factions in the nation to be taken over. Lenin taught that a culturally unified nation is difficult to topple, so the first step is to fracture the culture and divide the people into antagonistic groups, leading to hatred, and violence. The nation must be divided into opposing classes, races, religions, or any other classification that might offer the best chance of creating conflict. Communists describe this strategy as a “war of national liberation” on the assertion that the minority group is oppressed by the majority and must be ‘liberated’ by communism. The Communist Party USA meticulously followed this strategy during the rise of the civil rights movement, but not one person in a thousand had any idea who was directing the movement – or why. They could not imagine that the cry for civil rights was being used, not to protect the civil rights of black Americans, but to exploit black Americans (and most white Americans as well) into supporting a movement that had as its sole purpose, to expand the power of government until, eventually, its power would be total. Totalitarian government and communism are the same thing. -GEG

Listen to full interview here...

Families of Politicians Receive Billions in Private Deals and Gifts from Foreign Governments

Peter Schweizer, author of Secret Empires: How the American Political Class Hides Corruption and Enriches Family and Friends, reveals that politicians, including former Secretary of State John Kerry, former Vice President Joe Biden, and Mitch McConnell are linked to deals with the Chinese government that delivered billions of dollars to their children and parents. While the law requires a $1,500 political donation to be publicly disclosed, billions can flow to family members with no disclosure required- which is no accident. The stench is unbearable. -GEG