

Radical Leftists Harassed and Spit on Florida Attorney General Pam Bondi at Theater

Florida AG Pam Bondi was screening an anti-bullying film about Mr. Rogers when radical leftists assailed her, with large men spitting on her and blocking her exit from the theater, while others screamed at her for supporting Trump.

Left-wing activists harassed Florida Attorney General Pam Bondi at a movie theater on Saturday over her support for the Trump administration, yelling at her as she left and returned to her vehicle.

The Tampa Bay Times reports:

A video of the confrontation, taken by progressive activist Timothy Heberlein of Organize Florida, shows several people shouting down Bondi as she leaves the theater escorted by law enforcement after seeing Won't You Be My Neighbor.

“What would Mister Rogers think about you and your legacy in Florida? Taking away health insurance from people with pre-existing conditions, Pam Bondi!” Maria José Chapa, a left-wing organizer, screamed at Bondi. “Shame on you!”

Another heckler yelled: “You’re a horrible person!”

Whitney Ray, a spokeswoman for Bondi, told the Tampa Bay Times that the video shared on social media showed only a small portion of what actually happened.

“The video they are choosing to share is of the least aggressive portion of the attack that transpired after police arrived to control the scene. What they are not sharing publicly are several previous encounters involving large men getting in the Attorney General’s face, spitting and blocking her exit,” Ray said.

Read full article here...