

Trump's DOJ Reverses Obama-Era College Affirmative Action Diversity Policy

The Trump Administration is rescinding Obama's affirmative action policy that encouraged colleges to consider race during the admissions process. The Supreme Court last ruled that affirmative action was constitutional in 2016, but it could be subject to challenges in the future.