

The UN IMF Approves of South Africa's Expropriation of Land from White Farmers. South African Bank Demands Loans Be Paid in Full.

written by GEG | September 3, 2018

The IMF approves of South Africa's controversial land reform as long as the highly contentious process is "rules-based". According to civil rights organization AfriForum, the ANC's claim that whites own up to 80% of the land in the country is false, and accurate figures that the government owns 24% of the land and an additional 34.5% of the land is owned by black people.