

Most American Receive More from the Government Than They Pay in Taxes

written by GEG | October 25, 2018

When the majority of the voting population receives more in benefits than it pays in taxes, then voters will demand more wealth be transferred to them through government programs. And larger and larger amounts of wealth will be extracted from a minority to subsidize the majority.