

New HUD Grants Threaten Single-Family Homes Because They Are 'Racist'

written by GEG | February 8, 2019

Local governments across the US are removing single-family neighborhoods in the name of fighting racism. The real goal is, not to fight racism, but to move people into high-density urban areas with apartment buildings, which is mandated by the UN's Agenda-21 blueprint for the elimination of private property.