

California Governor Gavin Newsom Scraps High-Speed Train Because It Is Too Expensive

written by GEG | February 13, 2019

The price of the train rose from an initial estimate of $37 billion in 2008 to nearly $100 billion according to an estimate last year, and the earliest it would have been finished is in 2033.