

US Company that Smuggled Weapons into Venezuela Is Linked to CIA 'Black Site' Renditions

Last week, Venezuelan authorities claimed a US plane smuggled in a small cache of weapons and ammo, and accused the US government for the illicit cargo, and seeking to arm opposition groups to topple the current Maduro-led government. The plane, operated by 21 Air, had begun flying into Columbia and Venezuela daily, starting in January. Two top executives at 21 Air, Adolpho Moreno and Michael Steinke, have “either coincidental or direct ties” to Gemini Air Cargo, a company previously named by Amnesty International as one of the air charter services involved in a CIA rendition program. Critics of America’s involvement in Venezuela have compared the Iran-Contra scandal of the 1980s, when Elliot Abrams, the the newly appointed special envoy overseeing policy toward Venezuela, funneled weapons to the Contras in humanitarian aid shipments.

GREENSBORO, NORTH CAROLINA – Two executives at the company that chartered the U.S. plane that was caught smuggling weapons into Venezuela last week have been tied to an air cargo company that aided the CIA in the rendition of alleged terrorists to “black site” centers for interrogation. The troubling revelation comes as Venezuelan President Nicolás Maduro has rejected a U.S. “humanitarian aid” convoy over concerns that it could contain weapons meant to arm the country’s U.S.-backed opposition.

Last Tuesday, Venezuelan authorities announced that 19 rifles, 118 ammo magazines, 90 radios and six iPhones had been smuggled into the country via a U.S. plane that had originated in Miami.

The authorities blamed the United States government for the illicit cargo, accusing it of seeking to arm U.S.-funded opposition groups in the country in order to topple the current Maduro-led government.

A subsequent investigation into the plane responsible for the weapons caché conducted by McClatchyDC received very little media attention despite the fact that it uncovered information clearly showing that the plane responsible for the shipment had been making an unusually high number of trips to Venezuela and neighboring Colombia over the past few weeks.

Steffan Watkins, an Ottawa-based analyst, told McClatchy in a telephone interview that the plane, which is operated by U.S. air cargo company 21 Air, had been “flying between Philadelphia and Miami and all over the place, but all continental U.S.” during all of last year. However, Watkins noted that “all of a sudden in January, things changed” when the plane began making trips to Colombia and Venezuela on a daily basis, sometimes multiple times a day.

According to Watkins’ analysis, this single plane had conducted 40 round-trip flights from Miami International Airport to Caracas and Valencia – where the smuggled weapons had been discovered – in Venezuela, as well as to Bogota and Medellin in Colombia in just the past month.

Publicly available flight radar information

shows that the plane, although it has not returned to Venezuela since the discovery of its illicit cargo, has continued to travel to Medellin, Colombia, as recently as this past Monday.

Multiple CIA ties

In addition to the dramatic and abrupt change in flight patterns that occurred just weeks before U.S.

Vice President Mike Pence prompted Venezuelan opposition member Juan

Guaidó to declare himself “interim president,” a subsequent McClatchy follow-up investigation also uncovered the fact that two top executives at the company that owns the plane in question had previously worked with a company connected to controversial CIA “black sites.”

Indeed, the chairman and majority owner of 21 Air, Adolfo Moreno, and 21 Air’s director of quality control, Michael Steinke, both have “either coincidental or direct ties” to Gemini Air Cargo, a company previously named by Amnesty International as one of the air charter services involved in a CIA rendition program. In this CIA program, individuals suspected of terrorism were abducted by the intelligence agency and then taken abroad to third-country secret “black sites” where torture, officially termed “enhanced interrogation,” was regularly performed.

Read full article here...

Inside the NYPD's Out-of-Control DNA Collection Practices

The NYPD has been aggressively collecting DNA by going door-to-door, bribing people with cigarettes and even random passers-by, and is compiling an Orwellian crime-fighting DNA database which had over 64,000 samples as of 2017. The profiles are kept in the crime lab's database and are routinely compared to other profiles for all city crimes including every rape, murder and any other violent crime. The NY Daily News reported, "DNA has unparalleled power to wrongly accuse. Genetic testing can now reveal a profile based on a few cells, and we shed hundreds of thousands of cells a day. Your DNA can show up in places you've never been." For example, the DNA of Lukis Anderson was discovered under the fingernails of a murdered billionaire – which was transferred to the dead man by paramedics who had treated both men separately. Anderson was facing the death penalty before his 2013 exoneration.

The NYPD is going to great lengths to collect, and permanently store DNA from everyone they can – guilty or innocent, according to the NY Daily News.

Whether it be going door to door, bribing people with cigarettes, or simply demanding cheek swabs from random passers by, the NYPD has been aggressively compiling an Orwellian crime-fighting DNA database which had over 64,000 profiles as of 2017.

Take as an extreme example the police investigation of the Howard Beach jogger case. Before they identified a suspect, the NYPD collected well over 500 DNA profiles from men in the East New York area.

Imagine police knocking on doors, in uniform, with a cheek swab in hand, asking residents to prove they didn't kill the jogger in the nearby park.

They were willing to do it in East New York. Do you think this would happen on Park Ave.? In Park Slope? Not likely.

But things get worse from there. For those people excluded from the jogger case, the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, the city's crime lab, permanently keeps those profiles in their databank and routinely compares profiles to all city crimes. –NY Daily News

The Chief Medical Examiner's office, meanwhile, has justified the supercharged data collection on ambiguous city and state laws – instead preferring to invent their own rules governing how they use someone's DNA.

In short – anyone who has given their DNA to the NYPD will be routinely compared to DNA samples from every rape, murder and any other violent crime run through the system.

But wait, you might say – why worry if you've done nothing wrong?

Because, as the Daily News notes, “DNA has unparalleled power to wrongly accuse. Genetic testing can now reveal a profile based on a few cells, and we shed hundreds of thousands of cells a day. Your DNA can show up in places you’ve never been.”

For example, the DNA of Lukis Anderson was discovered under the fingernails of a murdered billionaire – which was transferred to the dead man by paramedics that night who had treated both men. Anderson was facing the death penalty before his 2013 exoneration.

Read full article here...

Agenda 21 Alert! Mayor Eric Garcetti Declares Green New Deal in Los Angeles, City to Turn Off the Lights

Agenda 21 is the United Nations strategy to fight global warming at the local level while Agenda 2030 is the UN strategy for fighting climate change at the national and international levels. The introduction of the Green New Deal (GND) is a major attempt at implementing Agenda 2030 in the United States. Commentator Gary Gileno says that Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, a young attractive millennial, was placed in office to sell the GND to other millennials. The GND is the implementation of 'sustainability' across America that is artificial scarcity under the guise of conservation, it is a behavioral modification scheme under social engineering and at its core, it is a system of rationing, with less food, water, energy, mobility, choice, freedom, and space.

Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti, in support of the Green New Deal, announced that Los Angeles will abandon plans to rebuild three natural gas plants, despite concerns the city will suffer acute power shortages. He is enacting Agenda 2030, where people will live in the dark and under water rationing, in addition to the termination of travel by cars and planes. Population control is the goal.

Additional

source:

<https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2019/02/11/mayor-eric-garcetti-declares-green-new-deal-in-l-a-cancels-natural-gas-officials-doubt-keeping-the-lights-on/>

All Illegal Aliens can get a California Driver's License

California Motor Voter Policy Launched Before It Was Ready, But in Time for the Mid-Terms that Favored Democrats

The 'Motor Voter Act' was signed by Bill Clinton in 1993 and has expanded exponentially by Democrat lawmakers. California is one of the worse offenders as the state automatically registers people to vote and gives driver's licenses to non-citizens, including illegal aliens. The DMV has acknowledged making 105,000 registration errors since Motor Voter began on April 23, 2018. Some customers were registered to the wrong party.

One way non-citizens are registering to vote (and ultimately vote) is through the criminal 'motor voter' program.

Recall, the 'Motor Voter Act' was signed by Bill Clinton in 1993 and has expanded exponentially by Democrat lawmakers since it went into effect in 1995.

California is one of the worse offenders being that they give non-citizens, including illegal aliens driver's licenses.

It gets worse...

The new 'motor voter' plan the Democrats in California rolled out last year calls for the DMV to automatically register people who came into their offices.

What could possibly go wrong?

Now it is being reported that California elections officials warned Secretary of State Alex Padilla that the DMV was not ready to launch this aggressive motor voter program, but California went ahead anyway and the results were a disaster (for Republicans).

Via the SacBee:

"There wasn't the appropriate readiness to go forward in April, and that was brought to the Secretary of State," said Dean Logan, registrar for Los Angeles County, adding that he "definitely expressed concern" to the Secretary of State's Office, as well as Padilla himself.

"The concern from registrars across the state, including myself, was not a resistance to moving forward. We supported the move to the New Motor Voter program in the long term. The concern was had there been adequate testing and development to be ready for the June election.”

California moved forward anyway.

The DMV has since acknowledged making 105,000 registration errors since Motor Voter began on April 23, 2018. Some customers were registered with the wrong party. Others who wished to opt out of the program were nevertheless signed up. At least one non-citizen was added to the voter rolls, and the Secretary of State’s Office is continuing to investigate whether more non-citizens were included.

“The decision to launch Motor Voter was jointly made by the Secretary of State’s office, DMV, CDT, and Governor (Jerry) Brown’s Administration,” Padilla said in a statement issued by his office. “This project took into consideration workload and logistics for all partners. While I have expressed frustration with some of the data transfer errors since the launch of Motor Voter, the program has been an overall success, adding over 800,000 new voters to the rolls. I look forward to working with Governor Newsom and his administration to continue improving voter registration at the DMV.”

Joe Holland, president of the California Association of Clerks and

Election

Officials says he also warned Alex Padilla not to launch the program so close to the midterm elections.

“Our recommendation was not to deploy it that close to an election,” he said. “That was the opinion of most registrar of voters.”

The SacBee reported that this program ultimately hurt Republicans and flipped at least one district for the Democrats.

Read full article here...

Democrats in Iowa Will Allow Party Members to Vote by Phone in Precinct Caucuses

for Presidential Nominee

Iowa Democrats will allow voters to phone in their votes in precinct caucuses for the presidential nominee. The Democrats are setting up a scam system that they are pushing to go national, following the California model of automatically registering everyone to vote when they get a driver's license, and then adding to the corruption by allowing them to vote from home with their phone.

Iowa Democrats are going to allow registered Democrat voters to phone it in...

From CBS 2 Iowa:

Iowa Democratic leaders Monday announced a new option for registered party members to take part in Caucus night. The plan calls for a virtual caucus that will take place over several nights leading up to the precinct caucuses that will be accessible by phone and by smartphone app. The goal is to make sure that every Democrat in Iowa, regardless of physical condition, weather, job schedule or personal reasons, has a way to help select the party's nominee for President of the United States.

They forgot to include "whether you're lazy, drunk, high or know nothing about politics."

The virtual caucus will essentially serve as an additional county in each congressional district in Iowa, and will represent 10% of each district's representation at the state convention. Users of the virtual caucus will be able to select their top 5 preferences for President, choose whether they want to put forth their name as a possible delegate, and submit platform proposals to be adopted by the party.

"The Iowa Democratic Party has always sought ways to improve our caucus process, and today, we are setting the stage for the 2020 Iowa caucuses to be the most accessible, transparent, and successful caucuses in our party's history," said Iowa Democratic Party Chair Troy Price. "Starting almost immediately after the 2016 cycle, this party took a holistic look at how we can make the Iowa caucuses more accessible and transparent. These proposals are the result of thousands of hours of conversation and years of hard work."

Sounds like this was worked on by some very low IQ individuals.

The traditional caucus format will continue largely in tact, but those who sign up for the virtual caucus will not be allowed to participate in the precinct format to prevent any double voting. Party leaders said during a conference call that they are still working out details on the plan to ensure a secure system.

The Democratic Party can't secure an email server, but no doubt they'll have zero problems with online voting.

Read full article here...