

Olympics to Allow Transgender Athletes to Compete with Women Without Sex Change Surgery

written by GEG | March 1, 2019

The Olympics announced that transgender athletes, including biological males, will be allowed to compete as the other sex without gender reassignment surgery, signaling the end of women's sports as we know it.

Read full article here...