

Shock photos Show that Agenda 21 Affordable Housing Is Soviet Style Mass Housing for the Serfs

Activist Gary Gileno reveals that 95% of land in America is undeveloped, yet there is a housing shortage that is due to the government blocking building on it, creating artificial scarcity. Due to limited space, vertical hi-rise units are being built instead of expanding outward. Agenda 21 Sustainable Development is hard communism that mandates Soviet-style buildings in order to combat climate change, which is a hoax. The dismal mass-produced Soviet structures were a failure and are beginning to be torn down in Moscow.