

Forensic Accountant Discovers that the Federal Reserve Cooks Its Books

Alan Myers is a forensic accountant, an expert on uncovering accounting fraud. He says the Fed should be abolished because of the profound damage it inflicts on the American economy and on the purchasing power of American citizens. Now he is saying “The Fed is even worse than I thought. It actually cooks its books!” Alan will be a featured speaker at the Red Pill expo June 7–9, 2019, in Hartford, Connecticut and will explain what he discovered.

lan Myers is a forensic accountant who is an expert on uncovering accounting fraud. He and I share the opinion that the Fed should be abolished because of the profound damage it inflicts on the American economy and on the purchasing power of American citizens, but a few months ago, Alan said: “The Fed is even worse than I thought. It cooks its books!”

Alan will be a featured speaker at the Red Pill expo June 7–9 in Hartford, Connecticut and will explain what he discovered, and you will be amazed that they get away with such fraud.

When you visit the Expo web site, you will find 27 other speakers of similar high caliber, all of whom have experience and knowledge that is mind boggling.
