

Study Finds the Wealthy & Celebrities Aren't Changing Their Flying Habits to Reduce CO2 Emissions

written by GEG | October 22, 2019

Climate activist Bill Gates is responsible for emitting approximately 1,600 tonnes of CO₂, which is about 1600 times higher than the global average of 100 kilos per person per year for air travel.