

Coronavirus: The Definition of “Cases” Is Producing a New Level of Illusion

written by GEG | March 5, 2020

The CDC is lumping together presumptive cases and confirmed cases of coronavirus, and is calling them: CASES. The CDC accepted the genetic sequence of the virus which may not have been isolated. Categories of cases are being deceptively juggled and merged, in order to inflate numbers.