

California Begins to Defy Governors' Orders as County Reopens and Beach Remains Open

Orange County, which has a population of more than three million, is defying Governor Newsom after he announced a “hard close” of all OC beaches. San Diego, Encinitas and Del Mar beaches are also set to reopen.