

Democrats Letting Criminals Go While Arresting Business Owners

Heather MacDonald says says the longer people are under lockdown, the more dependent they become on the government for survival – which is what socialism, communism, fascism, and all other forms of collectivism are all about.