

Soros-Funded Prosecutor Goes After St. Louis Man for Defending His Home

written by GEG | July 1, 2020

St. Louis, Missouri: The McCloskys, both attorneys, guarded their lives and their home in self defense with an AR-15 and a handgun Sunday after Antifa and Black Lives Matter broke down their gate and threatened to swarm into their home. Prosecutor Kim Gardner is a far-left radical who was elected to Circuit Attorney General with the help of funding from George Soros. Gardner said, "I am alarmed at the events that occurred over the weekend, where peaceful protesters were met by guns." In 2019, Gardner brought criminal charges against only 23% of cases that the police brought to her office. The turnover for state prosecutors has surpassed 100% since Gardner was elected.
