

Pope Francis Criticizes Capitalism, Recommends Communist Policy Against Private Property

Pope Francis says the coronavirus pandemic has proven that the “magic theories” of market capitalism have failed and that the world needs a new type of politics that promotes solidarity and working for the common good that must come from sharing the Earth’s resources. Pope Francis rejected the concept of an absolute right to property for individuals, which is a defining feature of communism. Francis falsely blamed the loss of millions of jobs on the virus, but the economy was destroyed by governments forcing lockdowns and shutting down businesses.

Pope Francis says the coronavirus pandemic has proven that the “magic theories” of market capitalism have failed and that the world needs a new type of politics that promotes dialogue and solidarity and rejects war at all costs.

Francis on Sunday laid out his vision for a post-COVID world by uniting the core elements of his social teachings into a new encyclical aimed at inspiring a revived sense of the human family. “Fratelli Tutti” (Brothers All) was released on the feast day of his namesake, the peace-loving St. Francis of Assisi.

The document draws its inspiration from the teachings of St. Francis and the pope's previous preaching on the injustices of the global economy and its destruction of the planet and pairs them with his call for greater human solidarity to confront the "dark clouds over a closed world."

In the encyclical, Francis rejected even the Catholic Church's own doctrine justifying war as a means of legitimate defense, saying it had been too broadly applied over the centuries and was no longer viable.

"It is very difficult nowadays to invoke the rational criteria elaborated in earlier centuries to speak of the possibility of a 'just war,'" Francis wrote in the most controversial new element of the encyclical.

Francis had started writing the encyclical, the third of his pontificate, before the coronavirus struck and its bleak diagnosis of a human family falling apart goes far beyond the problems posed by the outbreak. He said the pandemic, however, had confirmed his belief that current political and economic institutions must be reformed to address the legitimate needs of the people most harmed by the coronavirus.

"Aside from the differing ways that various countries responded to the crisis, their inability to work together became quite evident," Francis wrote. "Anyone who thinks that the only lesson to be learned was the need to improve what we were already doing, or to refine existing systems and regulations, is denying reality."

He cited the grave loss of millions of jobs as a result of the virus as evidence of the need for politicians to listen to popular movements, unions and marginalized groups and to craft more just social and economic policies.

"The fragility of world systems in the face of the pandemic has demonstrated that not everything can be resolved by market freedom," he wrote. "It is imperative to have a proactive economic policy directed at ‘promoting an economy that favours productive diversity and business creativity’ and makes it possible for jobs to be created, and not cut.”

He denounced populist politics that seek to demonize and isolate, and called for a “culture of encounter” that promotes dialogue, solidarity and a sincere effort at working for the common good.

As an outgrowth of that, Francis rejected the concept of an absolute right to property for individuals, stressing instead the “social purpose” and the common good that must come from sharing the Earth’s resources. He repeated his criticism of the “perverse” global economic system, which he said consistently keeps the poor on the margins while enriching the few – an argument he made most fully in his 2015 landmark environmental encyclical “Laudato Sii” (Praised Be).

Police Arrest Democrat for Wielding a Knife at a ‘Women for Trump’ Rally

Individuals from the Oregon Women For Trump organization

reported being threatened by a knife-wielding man, Clayton John Callahan, at their car cruise rally. Callahan is a member of the Washington County Democrats and claimed to be the communications director. He has resigned from the group. He is employed as a jailer at the Coffee Creek Correctional women's jail. Callahan allegedly blocked a vehicle decorated for a pro-Trump rally at an intersection, the encounter escalated, and Callahan was filmed holding a knife. Police were called and he was arrested on charges of Unlawful Use Of A Weapon.

Hillsboro Police confirmed the arrest of Clayton Callahan, who had formerly volunteered with the Washington County Democrats and works at a local jail.

The Washington County Democrats have disavowed the actions of a former volunteer who police say brandished a knife during a heated confrontation at an Oregon Women for Trump car cruise in Hillsboro.

Sgt. Clint Chrz told Pamplin Media that Hillsboro officers arrested Clayton John Callahan, 52, on one count of unlawful use of a weapon following reports of an altercation at the intersection of Southeast 10th Avenue and Maple Street around 1:44 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 4.

"He confronted one of the Trump supporters – rallygoers – with a knife, and as a result of his actions he has been arrested," said Sgt. Chrz. "We didn't use any force to get him into custody."

Oregon Department of Corrections officials confirm that Callahan remains employed as a jailer at the Coffee Creek Correctional Institution in Wilsonville but will not be coming into work at the women's prison for now.

"He is currently stationed at home," said DOC spokeswoman Betty Bernt. "At this time, it's a local law enforcement issue, and depending on what happens there, it will be investigated by us as well."

Callahan posted $1,000 in bail and was released from the Washington County Jail on Sunday.

Attorney Dr. Reiner Fueilmich Reveals Crimes Against Humanity In Covid-19 Scandal

Dr. Reiner Fueilmich, an attorney licensed in Germany and the state of California, practices as a trial lawyer against fraudulent corporations. He is one of four members of the German Corona Investigative Committee. In this video, he explains how the anti-Corona measures have destroyed economies and lives worldwide, and the deceptions that were used to implement the bad policies. He says that the most important fact that the committee uncovered was that the PCR test fails to give any indication from a virus, let alone an infection with Sars-Cov-2. PCR tests are not approved for diagnostic purposes because they are incapable of diagnosing any disease. He says that it is still not clear if there has ever been a scientifically correct isolation of Covid-19 virus, so nobody knows exactly what they are testing for.

An official from Germany's Department of the Interior in the risk assessment office leaked the 'False Alarm paper' that concluded there was and is no sufficient evidence for serious health risks for the population as claimed by authorities, but there is plenty of evidence that bad Covid-19 policies caused massive damage to health and economies, which will lead to huge numbers of claims against the government.

Below is a video from Dr. Reiner Fuelmich, attorney licensed in Germany and the state of California. He practices as a trial lawyer against fraudulent corporations. He is one of four members of the German Corona Investigative Committee. In this video, he explains how the anti-Corona measures were implemented, and have destroyed companies and lives worldwide. Thank you to our Anne Dachel for the transcribed excerpts below the video.

"...an international network of lawyers will argue this biggest tort case ever, the corona fraud scandal, which has meanwhile unfolded into probably the greatest crime against humanity ever committed. ...

"...Do the so-called anti-corona measures such as the lockdown, mandatory facemasks, social distancing and quarantine regulations serve to protect the world population from corona, or do these measures serve only to make people panic so that they believe, without asking any questions, that their lives are in danger, so that in the end, the pharmaceutical and tech industries can generate huge profits from the sale of PCR tests, antigens and antibody tests and vaccines as well as the harvesting of our genetic fingerprints.

"...Is it true that the German government was massively lobbied, more so than any other country, by the chief protagonists of the so-called corona pandemic, ...because Germany is known as a particularly disciplined country and was therefore to become a role model for the rest of the world for its strict and of course successful adherence to the corona measures. ...

32:50 "...Oxford professor, Carl Heneghan, director for Director of the Centre for Evidence-Based Medicine, writes that 'the

COVID virus would never disappear if this test practice were to be continued, but would always falsely detected in much of what is tested.'

"Lockdowns...do not work. Sweden with its laissez-faire approach and Great Britain with its strict lockdown, for example, have completely comparable disease and mortality statistics. The same was found by U.S. scientists concerning the different U.S. states.
