

Undercover Video: Democrat Official Reveals Plans to Change America by Using Violence and Killing Billionaires

Kristopher Jacks, a Colorado Democratic Party Executive Committee member and the head of the radical Our Revolution organization, revealed the plans of the radical left in an undercover video in which he said “2020 is a political revolution” and exhorted violence to achieve communist goals. He exposed plans to intimidate Joe Biden in the White House with constant protests if he is elected, or a violent response if Trump is reelected. He recommended a “strategic hit against the .1% that’s in charge” which is ironic because many top billionaires are funding the Democrats, radical leftists and Antifa.

there's only one way to do it. You gotta get people that are close to billionaires and start just, random billionaires start turning up dead...I mean Bezos at the top of the list."

[DENVER—Oct. 13, 2020] Project Veritas released a video today from its investigation into the radical and violent agenda of a prominent member of Our Revolution, a partner of the Democratic Party coalition.

"I am going to do everything morally acceptable to win. I will lie. I will cheat. I will steal. Because that's morally acceptable in this political environment. Absolutely. We are pirates on a pirate ship," said Kristopher Jacks, who functions as trainer, mentor and on-the-ground quarterback at Our Revolution protests.

"I want to make this point very loudly and very clearly. I said it nicely before, but I'll say it more curtly now. 2020 is a political revolution," said Jacks.

James O'Keefe, the founder and CEO of Project Veritas said, "We've been following Kris Jacks for a long time. We first met him, during the presidential primary race. Now, we have caught up with him in Colorado."

O'Keefe said Project Veritas journalists recorded Jacks with hidden cameras to capture the true nature of his violent political agenda.

"Jacks represents the radical wing of the Democratic Party in Colorado—he is someone most Americans should be afraid of," O'Keefe said.

O'Keefe said Project Veritas cameras recorded Jacks talking about justified violence to gain complete political control.

Kristopher Jacks: *"I think the right wing has a monopoly right now on strong, violent rhetoric, and I think they underestimate how many people on the left are organized, trained, armed, and ready to go should they decide to do their sh*t. And I think all it will take is our numbers and a reminder that yeah, there's a reason you guys feared the Communists more than you feared the Nazis."*

Journalist: "So, you think the right wing—"

Jacks: "They're a bunch of b*tches. They're b*tch *ss bootlickers, man."

Journalist: "Who's the people on the left though?"

Jacks: "Doesn't matter. We have the army already. We're gonna show up in numbers. We're gonna show up in mass."

"We have Jacks on tape saying: 'I will knock people down the stairs as long as they don't die to make this happen' and 'When I look at everything, I mean again, I believe there is absolutely justified violence in all sorts of circumstances,'" O'Keefe said.

Journalist: "What do you think about like Antifa?"

Jacks: "Antifa's great, man. I think it's uh, Charlottesville dude. When you got people marching in the street, running people over and sh*t like that, you got people firing guns, trying to provoke sh*t, yeah even people there that are willing to stand between them and ordinary people."

Journalist: "Yeah, I like that hit-the-streets-type mentality, you know."

Jacks: "Yeah, no and there's definitely, there are definitely times for it, I just don't think it's uh, I mean it's—that awesome thing that's, one of those cards you have to have in your back pocket, man. Martin Luther King wouldn't have been as successful if it wasn't for Malcolm X and Nation of Islam, Black Panthers, all of them doing their thing too."

Jacks talked about how he plans a violent response if President Donald J. Trump wins reelection Nov. 3.

"I'm gonna be in my garage, right next to my gun safe, all night long, on the 3rd, because that is how seriously I take this stuff," Jacks said.

CDC Admits 85% of COVID-Infected People 'Often' or 'Always' Wore Masks

Data collected in July from the CDC showed 85% of people who “always” or “often” wear face masks showed symptoms of the coronavirus more than people who “never” or “rarely” wear masks. The study, published in September, confirms many reports released over the past few months showing wearing a face mask is ineffective at preventing COVID-19 infection and could even increase one’s chances of contracting the illness. US Surgeon General Jerome Adams, the CDC, the World Health Organization and Anthony Fauci all said that that wearing masks was ineffective, and then they flip-flopped and urged people to wear the face coverings as masks became mandatory in most of the US.

A study by the CDC examining adults infected with COVID-19 concluded the vast majority wore face masks or coverings frequently in the weeks leading up to becoming ill.

“In the 14 days before illness onset, 71% of case-patients and 74% of control participants reported always using cloth face coverings or other mask types when in public,” the report states.

Reported use of cloth face covering or mask 14 days before illness onset (missing = 2)
Never	6 (3.9)	5 (3.1)	0.86
Rarely	6 (3.9)	6 (3.8)
Sometimes	11 (7.2)	7 (4.4)
Often	22 (14.4)	23 (14.5)
Always	108 (70.6)	118 (74.2)

14% of those surveyed said they wore face coverings “often,” which means 85% of case-patients regularly donned masks.

On the other side of the mask-wearing spectrum, only 4% said they “rarely” or “never” wore them.

The study, published in September, confirms many reports released over the past few months showing wearing a face mask is ineffective at preventing COVID-19 infection and could even increase one’s chances of contracting the illness.

U.S. Surgeon General Jerome Adams told Americans to “STOP BUYING MASKS,” in a tweet released on February 29.

“They are NOT effective in preventing general public from catching coronavirus,” the nation’s top public health official explained.
