

San Francisco: Antifa Aggressor Punched Pro-Trump Supporter's Front Teeth Out

San Francisco: Video shows two men, one a black man with a MAGA hat, identified as Philip Anderson, walking into the crowd at Twitter headquarters to escort another man, wearing an InfoWars t-shirt, away from BLM and Antifa agitators. The video shows a masked leftist sucker punch Anderson as the mob chased the two men down the street into a gathering of police. His injuries include the loss of both of his front teeth. Anderson organized the protest against social-media censorship against conservatives, but eventually it was outnumbered by hundreds of counter protesters. He identifies himself as a member of the Proud Boys that the media has characterized as participating in street brawls while ignoring the obvious violence by leftists. Several more conservatives were attacked and injured. -GEG “ANTIFA demonstrators” reportedly punched a pro-Trump protester's teeth out and pelted him with rocks during an anti-Twitter rally in San Francisco on Saturday.

A group of counter-protesters were filmed punching and hurling debris at Philip Anderson, one of the organizers of the “Free Speech Rally” in California.

The “Team Save America” organizer had to be hospitalized with his injuries after getting a city permit for the event, which was canceled minutes after it started.

Attendees wore red "Make America Great Again" Trump campaign hats, carried pro-police "Thin Blue Line" flags and US flags as Lee Greenwood's song, "Proud To Be An American" blared.

A local reporter filmed Anderson leading another man away before he was attacked by the group at the United Nations Plaza, where a police officer was also reportedly injured.

"Oh, cry about it – cry about it," a female counter protester can be heard screaming as Anderson is punched and the crowd chants "get the f out."

A second shocking video shared by another Richmond Pulse reporter showed the same masked man violently striking Anderson as he clutches his face in pain.
