

Will the COVID-19 Vaccine Cause Infertility in Women?

written by GEG | December 15, 2020

The concerns are totally justified. This issue is more important than one might suppose inasmuch as there is a large body of evidence that one of the specifications in the design of vaccines has been population reduction.

Despite Media Announcements to the Contrary, Hospitals Have Ample Capacity for COVID-19 Patients. In Fact, They Are Almost Empty

written by GEG | December 15, 2020

In 2020, millions of dollars were invested in new medical facilities for the anticipated onslaught of COVID-19 patients that never materialized. Most of these facilities have been closed. For example, Chicago spent $120 million on four facilities that only treated 38 patients.

CNN Says: 'Don't Be Alarmed' If People Start Dying After Taking the Vaccine

written by GEG | December 15, 2020

Dr. Kelly Moore cautioned that frail and elderly people may die shortly after they receive a vaccine, not because it has anything to do with the vaccination, but because these people are at the end of their lives anyway. [Of course, if they die without the vaccine, they will be classified as a death by COVID.]
