

Italy Opens Thousands of Restaurants in Protest Against Tighter Lockdowns

written by GEG | January 22, 2021

Italy: 50,000 restaurants and bars joined a campaign to open their doors in protest of government lockdown of their businesses. It is unknown how many did open, but videos show customers drinking, eating and singing. In one viral video customers apparently booted the police back out the door.