

Biden Declares War on Global Food Supply – Engineered Famine is on the Way

written by GEG | February 10, 2021

The Biden administration has launched a technocratic war on America's food supply and accelerating a global collapse in food production. This is being done by paying farmers NOT to grow food, ordering the Department of Agriculture to pursue a zero-growth policy, and placing restrictions on grocery stores, restaurants, and meatpacking plants. On top of that, the US is reeling from a severe shortage of fertilizer, which will cause crop yields to decrease and prices to rise. The US is completely sold out of food to export and other countries have stopped exporting their surplus to protect their domestic supplies in the face of a looming global famine. -GEG

For information on how to improve your own food security in the days ahead, here is a link to the Greater Food Transformation website:

<https://thegreaterreset.org/replays-reconnecting-to-nature/>

Ice Age Farmer's video from the Greater Food Transformation presentation: