

Joe Biden now Calling for Wearing Masks Through the Next Year. CDC Recommends Wearing 2 Masks Even After Fauci Backtracked.

written by GEG | February 12, 2021

President Biden moved the goalposts from his “100 days of mask wearing” into “wearing masks through the next year.” Biden’s newly appointed CDC director, Rochelle Walensky, claimed that “new science is emerging” about the need for citizens to wear two masks, prompting the CDC to update their website, instructing people to add “layers of material” to their masks, specifically wearing a disposable mask underneath a cloth mask. Dr. Fauci has changed his position on wearing masks numerous times and said at the beginning of the Covid-19 scare that masks were not necessary and were largely symbolic. Then he stated that masks “need to stay on” until everyone is vaccinated. He backtracked on wearing two masks a few days later by saying, “there is no data that indicates that it is going to make a difference.”-GEG

15 days to slow the spread of Covid has turned into a never ending lockdown and power grab for the Democrats.

Now Joe Biden is moving the goalposts on his mask mandate.

Biden previously stated many times that wearing masks for just 100 days would save lives so his first day in office he signed an executive order requiring masks on federal property – just for 100 days.

On Thursday Biden's "100 days of mask wearing" turned into "wearing masks through the next year."

"You know that wearing this mask through the next year here can save lives, a significant number of lives," Biden said.

So Biden is saying that after tens of millions of Americans have been vaccinated, masks (which don't work anyway) will still be required to "save lives."
