

Report: Maddie, a 12-Year Old Girl Enrolled in a COVID-19 Vaccine Trial for Children, Has Severe Injuries

COVID-19 vaccine manufacturers are now conducting clinical trials on children age 6 months to 12 years old. The children are volunteered by their parents who sign them up for the unethical trials. Maddie, a 12-year old girl suffered severe injuries.