

India's Covid 'Cases' Explode Using Flawed PCR Tests and Diagnoses Policies Popularized in Europe and the US

Citizens are reporting that media accounts of people dying in the streets from COVID-19 are staged and that there is a heavy lockdown in Mumbai, with shops open only from 7 am to 11 am. Most reports coming from India follow the story line that the virus is killing alarming numbers, that hospitals are overwhelmed, but that the situation will get better when everyone is vaccinated. This is the same scenario popularized in Europe and the US. In Mumbai, at least 45,000 people off the streets are being tested per day. The totally useless PCR test is the standard for diagnosing 'cases' of COVID-19. 96% of those diagnosed in Bangalore were without symptoms. Anyone who dies after receiving a false-positive PCR test, no matter what the cause, is classified as a death from COVID-19. The mortality death rate is similar to the flu. The government is paying influencers to promote the vaccines, especially among the youth. It's the same scenario, over and over. Perhaps the most interesting factor here is that the upward statistics of death are perfectly paired to the number of people taking the COVID vaccines. In other words, there is a possibility that the deaths are caused, not by COVID but by the vaccines. -GEG
