

SF Gay-Men's Choir Sings about Coming for Your Children, Chicago to Offer Condoms to 5th Graders

The San Francisco Gay-Men's Choir released a controversial viral video in which the singers promised to "corrupt your kids" and "convert your children" knowing that it would trigger a strong negative reaction. Then, when people pushed back, they claimed to be victims. In another case, the Chicago Public School Board of Education announced it will put free condoms in every school for children in 5th grade and higher. Kenneth Fox, the head doctor for CPS, said that while it is not the norm for 10 and 11-year old children to engage in sex and that not everyone would be on board with the new policy from the start, he added, "I do think society has changed." The policy is guided by critical-race theory as Chicago Public Schools released an "equity statement" that states it "seeks to mitigate the effects of numerous inequities experienced by CPS students, such as access to sexual-health education and services." A third example of the hypersexualizing of children occurred in London last week when a library was forced to apologize after a man, dressed in a rainbow-colored bare-bottomed monkey costume with a visible fake penis, was hired to perform in front of children. No one was fired. GEG The San Francisco Gay Men's Chorus is facing a wave of backlash after offering up what it described as ironic humor about fears surrounding children and the "gay agenda."

The backlash came after the chorus posted a video in which members sang about indoctrinating children into being more concerned about "fairness" and "justice."

"You think that we'll corrupt your kids, if our agenda goes unchecked," one of the members sings. "Funny, just this once, you're correct."

"We'll convert your children. Happens bit by bit. Quietly and subtly. And you will barely notice it. You can keep them from disco. Warn about San Francisco. Make 'em wear pleated pants. We don't care. We'll convert your children. We'll make them tolerant and fair."

Later, the lyrics continue: "We'll convert your children. Someone's gotta teach them not to hate. We're coming for them. We're coming for your children. We're coming for them. We're coming for them. We're coming for your children.

"Your children will care about," the chorus adds, "fairness and justice for others. Your children will work to convert all their sisters and brothers. Then soon we're almost certain, your kids will start converting you!"

"The gay agenda is coming home. The gay agenda is here! But you don't have to worry because there's nothing wrong with standing by our side."

The video received plenty of pushback from the community. "Man, this suuuure sounds like a cult, doesn't it?" an article for Not The Bee read. "This is grotesque and unacceptable!" tweeted Brigitte Gabriel of ACT for America.

Commentator Raheem Kassam tweeted: "LGBT in 2010: 'NO WE ARENT INTERESTED IN KIDS YOU BIGOT WE JUST WANNA GET MARRIED LIKE YOU.'" He proceeded to tweet "LGBT in 2021," directing followers to an article about the song.

Republican Ohio state legislator Christina Hagan said: "They are pompously singing about undermining traditional values of families."

According to The Post Millennial, the video was made private after receiving 88 likes and 5,000 dislikes. The group said it made the video private out of concern for its members' safety. Although the original was removed, footage emerged on other YouTube pages and on Twitter.
