

Texas: 2 Young Children Vaccinated Without Authorization While Trick-Or-Treating

The city of Garland set up a Covid vaccine clinic at a local church during a Halloween gathering and two youngsters, ages 6 and 7, received vaccines, although the nurses were not authorized to jab children under 12. The children received full, adult-size shots, which are 3-times the dose recommended by the FDA.