New York Mystery: Independent Candidate Sees 20,000 Votes VANISH Overnight

written by GEG | November 11, 2022

New York: Diane Sare, an independent LaRouche candidate who ran against incumbent Democrat Senator Chuck Schumer, saw thousands of votes mysteriously vanish from her vote tally overnight. She posted screenshots taken from Google's election widget indicating that she lost over 20,000 votes between Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. She tweeted, "Last night I had over 55k votes and by this morning, less than 30k." She lost another 2,000 votes after she posted her tweet. Critics allege election fraud. In a clean and fair election, a candidate can only gain votes, not lose votes.

An independent candidate running for US Senate in New York mysteriously saw thousands of votes vanish from her vote tally overnight.

Posting screenshots taken from Google's election widget, LaRouche candidate Diane Sare, who was challenging Democrat incumbent Sen. Chuck Schumer (D-NY), noticed she lost over 20,000 votes between Tuesday night and Wednesday morning

> Last night I had over 55k votes and by this morning, less than 30k.
> pic.twitter.com/9CUHd5Yln2
>
> — Diane Sare for U.S. Senate (@DianeSare) November 9, 2022

"Last night I had over 55k votes and by this morning, less than 30k," Sare tweeted, with vote counts showing a drop from 50,408 to 29,954.

Read full article here…