

'Zero-Tolerance' Immigration Policy Separates Children from Parents who Enter US Illegally

The new 'zero tolerance' immigration policy of criminal prosecution against people who enter the US illegally has resulted in the separation of children from their parents who are detained in jail. This plight is being used by the left and the right to influence immigration policy. The largest children's shelter is housing boys who arrived at the border as unaccompanied children.