

Los Angeles: As Mask Mandate Looms, LA Hospital Officials Criticized COVID “Media Hype”

Brad Spellberg, the chief medical officer of Los Angeles County + University of Southern California Medical Center, said that the rise in Covid-positive tests is due to mild disease and the patients go home and do not get admitted. Only 10% of COVID-positive admissions are admitted due to COVID.