

California: 8,000 More Prisoners Set for Early Release, Supposedly Due to COVID-19

written by GEG | July 16, 2020

8,000 inmates could be eligible for release, in addition 10,000 that have already been released . Christine Ward of Crime Victims Alliance says, "We believe that COVID-19 has presented this administration with a perfect storm to use in efforts to empty out California State Prisons and close prisons."
