

Shocker: Toddlers Born During Pandemic Have Lower IQ Levels

written by GEG | August 16, 2021

A new study of 672 mostly white children from Rhode Island revealed that they scored shockingly low, with a mean average of 78, down from 100, on tests designed to assess cognitive development. The study concluded that the key factor influencing these lower scores in infants has likely been stress on parents.

JAMA Pediatrics Publishes Study Linking Fluoride During Pregnancy to Decreased IQ in Children

written by GEG | August 16, 2021

Water fluoridation is supplied to about 66% of US residents, 38% of Canadian residents, and 3% of European residents. The researchers found that for every 1 mg/L average increase in fluoride intake by a mother, there was a 3.7-point drop in the child's IQ.

Gene Edited CRISPR Twins May Have Higher IQ and Silicon Valley Wants to Exploit the Technology

written by GEG | August 16, 2021

Critics worry that CRISPR technology could one day be used to create super-intelligent humans, perhaps as part of a biotechnology race between the US and China. Silicon Valley has a keen interest in designer babies with higher intelligence.

Stefan Molyneux and Lauren Southern Censored in New Zealand: Debate Canceled and Speech Silenced in News Interview

written by GEG | August 16, 2021

Stefan Molyneux and Lauren Southern have been touring Australia and New Zealand, giving talks about multiculturalism, immigration, IQ differences between races, white genocide in South Africa, and the war on Western culture. When they were in New Zealand, the owner of the venue canceled and they were censored in an interview on a news program.