

UK Pop Star Lied about Taking in Refugees. She Rented to Diplomats Instead

Lily Allen is a popular singer and entertainer in the UK who is known for support of mass immigration. Last month, she welcomed several refugees into her luxury home, but then sent a request to her fans to house her and her two children over Christmas, because the foreigners would not leave her home. Later it was discovered that she did not open her home to refugees at all. Instead, she rented the property to wealthy diplomats who she claimed she could not evict because they had diplomatic immunity. She was skewered on social media for being a “champagne socialist” who advocates one policy for taxpayers and another for wealthy elitists, such as herself. - GEG

Last year, award-winning singer and liberal activist Lily Allen demanded citizens open their borders and homes to refugees. However, soon after graciously opening her own lavish home to migrants, the socialist celebrity was horrified to receive a brutal dose of reality.

After demanding taxpayers house refugees, singer and liberal activist Lily Allen (pictured) got exactly what she deserved when she took immigrants into her multi-million-dollar home. (Photo Credit: Marc Piasecki/WireImage, Screenshot/YouTube, Screenshot/YouTube)

Wealthy liberal elitists are always delighted to demand that the taxpayers be forced to fund their social activism, never once putting their money where their mouth is. So, when famous singer and notorious leftist activist Lily Allen was challenged to practice what she preaches when it comes to opening her home to those who are less fortunate, she finally accepted.

After a year of incessantly whining that the West hasn't done enough for the ceaseless flood of ungrateful and dangerous mostly-Muslim migrants, Allen thought she could get away with welcoming a few legal foreigners as tenants into one of her lavish apartments. Although they weren't the knife-wielding, stubble-sprouting North African "children" that she demands everyone else take, she still got a brutal dose of her own socialistic agenda – and she now realizes it isn't the liberal utopia that she claimed it would be.

The Sun reports that after setting the example by generously opening her apartment to foreign tenants, Allen and her 2 children are now homeless for the Christmas season because her immigrant guests have refused to leave, and much to Allen's dismay, they have diplomatic immunity and cannot be evicted. In short, not only was Allen fooling her followers into believing she'd graciously opened her home to refugees, but they were actually wealthy diplomats to whom she was renting her property, and now, she has reaped the comeuppance of her liberal agenda.

Read full article here...

UK Reporter Plans School Tour to Teach Children How to Avoid Brainwashing by Liberal Teachers

President Trump announced an immigration plan to limit new migrants coming to the US, in exchange for giving Congress the chance to give DACA 'dreamers' citizenship. The second half of this interview by Tucker Carlson, a conservative reporter for the Daily Mail in the UK says she has scheduled a 'Stand Strong School Tour' that aims to teach children how to think critically and to stand up to brainwashing by liberal teachers. Many school boards have banned her appearance, but she is supported by parents and young people. -GEG

Max Blumenthal Criticizes Fellow Democrats for Trump-Russia-Collusion Smear

Campaign

Max Blumenthal, a prominent liberal Democrat, criticizes the left for supporting the baseless accusations of Trump colluding with Russia. He says that, eventually, the Russian smear will be used against any politician, including liberals, who step out of line. He is concerned that the false narrative is being used to expand US military intervention in Syria and to legitimize the concept of perpetual war. -GEG

Jailed NSA Leaker says:
'Being White is Terrorism'.
Draws Attention Away from DNC
Corruption and Seth Rich Murder.

Sarah Leigh "Reality" Winner, the 25-year-old federal contractor who was arrested on Saturday for leaking classified information to the media, says: "Being white is terrorism." She confessed to leaking a top-secret NSA document that allegedly deals with Russian hacking. There is reason to question both the leak and the arrest. Winner's posts on social-media reveal that she is a radical leftist and an outspoken hater of Donald Trump, which may be her motive for releasing classified documents that, according to the media, show collusion between Trump and the Russians. So far, however, there have been no details released that actually support that claim. At this point, the primary effect of Winner's arrest is yet another wave of anti-Trump 'news', and its timing tends to divert attention away from DNC corruption and the murder of Seth Rich. If she is let off the hook for her crime, it will be a dead giveaway that the event was staged for impact on public opinion. We shall see. -GEG