

South Africa: Trump Responds While Mainstream Media Covers Up Murders and Land Expropriation of White Farmers

written by GEG | August 24, 2018

President Trump's request for the State Department to monitor SA, although sounding like it might bring a shift in State Department policy, was meaningless. Even though the country has not yet changed its constitution, it already has begun taking farm land without compensation. The constitutionality is of little importance to dictators.