

Pro-Abortion Mob Attempts to Burn Down Catholic Church In Mexico City and Demands an End to the Country's Ban on Abortion

A group of masked pro-abortion feminists rioted in the streets of Mexico City and attempted to burn down a Catholic cathedral and a government building on Saturday in protest against the country's ban against abortion. Mexico City and Oaxaca already do permit abortion. Some of the masked marchers destroyed shelters at bus stops, spray painted slogans on public and private property, and attacked police officers, journalists, and bystanders. The police used a largely female contingent that, for the most part, stood down while the feminists wreaked havoc. -GEG

A pro-abortion feminist mob rioted in the streets and attempted to burn down a Catholic cathedral and a government building on Saturday in Mexico City as part of a protest demanding legalized abortion.

Video showed masked antifa lunatics destroying public property and acting worse than wild animals: