

Scientists Are Attempting to Grow Covid Vaccine-Filled Lettuce and Edible Plants To Replace Covid Shots

written by GEG | November 14, 2021

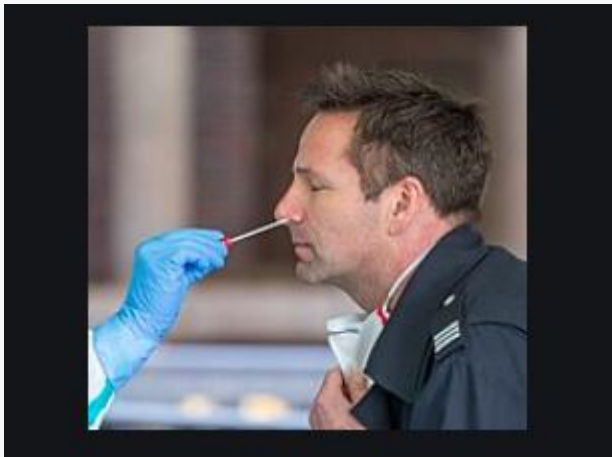

Researchers at the University of California Riverside were awarded a grant from the National Science Foundation to develop technology that infuses experimental mRNA Covid-19 vaccines into spinach, lettuce and other edible plants.

Vaccines Meant to Affect the Brain Can Be Delivered through Nasal Swabs Without Our Knowledge

written by GEG | November 14, 2021

It is unknown whether the existing nanotechnology for drug delivery has been used to deliver Covid-19 vaccines through nasal swab tests. This article describes several methods of delivery that include intranasal administration that can bypass the blood-brain barrier and deliver chemicals directly to the brain.

Dangerous Nano-Particles Contaminate Many Vaccines

written by GEG | November 14, 2021

The vaccine nanoparticles were similar to burnt waste and “they should not be present in any injectable medicament, let alone in vaccines, more in particular those meant for infants.” [The startling significance of this finding is that these vaccines are not medicines to protect health but bioweapons to cause illness.]

Italy: Doctors Who Found Metals and Nanoparticles in Vaccines Had Lab Raided by Police

written by GEG | November 14, 2021

Dr. Gatti and Dr. Montanari study diseases that include cancer, heart disease and neurological problems that are caused by nano-particles created from processes that involve high temperature such as manufacturing, waste incineration and car exhaust. Most nano-particles are expelled by the body when inhaled and consumed, but when injected by way of a vaccine, they are able to stay in the body and cause disease. The couple performed a study and found nano-particles polluted all of the 44 vaccines that they tested.
