

Small Businesses Fight Back Against Rioters and Negligent City Officials

A diner in Minneapolis, near the police station that was abandoned during the George Floyd riots in 2020, is suing the city for $4.5 million. Minneapolis Mayor Jacob Frey and others made the decision to abandon the station, which encouraged the rioters to go further. Other small businesses across the country are filing similar lawsuits because there is an expectation for law enforcement to do their job, instead of standing down and allowing destruction. Ultimately, city taxpayers will pay any settlements.

Chicago Store Owner to Sue the City After His Store Is Looted Twice

Chicago: Walid Mouhammad, the owner of a convenience store, is suing the city for police inaction after his store was robbed for the second time on August 9th, resulting in massive damage and the theft of an ATM machine. Mouhammad had invested $300,000 in security cameras and a new steel security door after the first time his store was robbed in May during the George Floyd riots. Mouhammad blames the police for the destruction of his store because they failed to even try to stop the thieves. -GEG

Walid Mouhammad, the owner of a convenience store in Chicago, is suing the city for police inaction after his store was robbed for the second time. Mouhammad had invested $300,000 in increasing security to the store after the first time he was looted in May. Mouhammad blames the police for his destroyed store, claiming “no one came to stop them.”

Mouhammad’s store was devastated when it was first looted in May, causing the store owner to invest heavily in security. He had installed security cameras and a new steel security door, which he watched the looters rip out in real-time through the security cameras. He said that the looting was much worse the second time around, as not only did the looters steal the store’s merchandise, but ripped out the ATM machine as well.

Mouhammad claims that the looters spend around 25 minutes at his store, according to the Daily Mail, during which several calls to the cops were made. “No one came to stop them,” in all that time, he told Fox News, adding that “Officers are seeing what is going on but are doing nothing.” The building’s landlords themselves made several calls as well. “I made six calls myself. The store owners, they made calls, my maintenance guys made calls,” said building owner Tommica Foster-Akin to ABC 7 Chicago.

Mouhammad had only been open for 40 days after the first attack and now refuses to open the store until the city can provide some promise as to safety – not just for him, but for all small business owners in Chicago. “I want to know, are we protected or not? I want them to take care of the small businesses,” he told Fox News. He plans to sue the city of Chicago for taking more than 25 minutes to respond to his distress call.

The looting comes in the wake of a police shooting in Englewood, Chicago, on Sunday, August 9, leading to widespread looting in the city that lasted well into Monday. The Chicago Police Force had promised to have more than 1,000 cops on the streets of the city in order to prevent more such looting.

Read full article here...

Black Lives Matter & Antifa Terrorize Small Minnesota Town

Dozens of Black Lives Matter mercenaries invaded the Twin-Cities suburb of Hugo, Minnesota to intimidate the family and neighbors of Bob Kroll, president of the Minneapolis police union. One leader of the aggressors was Democrat politician John Thompson, who recently won the primary for a Democrat seat in the Minnesota House and was endorsed by Governor Walz. Thompson shrieked obscenities and threatened locals with burning down the town saying, "I didn't come here to be peaceful."

[Americans by now must be aware of a common scenario: Politicians and law-enforcement officials stand down and do nothing to interfere with violent professional mercenaries as they destroy property and threaten lives. Even though everyone knows that many of these politicians and strike forces are financed by George Soros, no one in government, local or national, does anything to put him out of business. The destroyers seldom face serious penalties, but their victims are prosecuted for defending themselves. Conclusion: There are not two sides in this conflict. Both sides are serving the same master who wants escalation of violence to the point where the population will beg for martial law. How else can you trick Americans to gratefully accept their own enslavement?] -GEG

Dozens of Black Lives Matter "activists" invaded the Twin Cities suburb of Hugo, Minnesota on Saturday afternoon.

The "protest" was meant to intimidate the family and neighbors of Bob Kroll, president of the Minneapolis police union.

One leader of the demonstration was Democratic politician John Thompson, who recently won the primary for a safely Democratic seat in the Minnesota House. Thompson shrieked obscenities at community members, declaring that the "fing Grand Wizard [of the Ku Klux Klan]" lived in the town:

At another point in his tirade, Thompson threatened the locals, screaming "You think we give a fuck about burning Hugo down?" and "I didn't come here to be peaceful." He also said that “blue lives [i.e. police] don’t mean shit to black people.”

Click here for video of John Thompson – language warning

Thompson was recently endorsed by Minnesota governor Tim Walz, who said “His fierce advocacy and commitment to his community is exactly what’s needed in the state legislature right now.”

Thompson’s behavior would seem to run afoul of Minnesota’s law against disturbing the peace, which among other things prohibits “Inciting violence by using offensive language in public or by shouting.”

The Antifa organization Unicorn Riot, which previously livestreamed (and celebrated) the destruction of the Third Precinct in Minneapolis, was on hand to livestream the event.

Unicorn Riot, arguably a domestic terrorist media publication, previously participated in the burning and looting of the third precinct police headquarters in Minneapolis. The third precinct building was burned down to the ground.

Read full article here..

Chicago: 106 People Shot, 14 Dead, Including a 3-Year Old, Over Father’s Day Weekend

This Father's Day weekend in Chicago was the most violent in 2020 with 106 people shot, and 14 killed. A 3-year-old boy, Mekhi James, who was riding in a car with his father, was killed. Over the weekend, shootings in New York City soared 358% over last year. New York recently disbanded one of its most effective anti-crime units, ceased stopping and frisking those suspected of carrying a firearm, and instituted the no-cash bail 'reform'. [The destroyers in the streets could not succeed as they do without the deliberate stand-down and do-nothing cooperation from mayors and police chiefs and a majority in city council members. This is a war on America by troops embedded deep within our government at every level. No solution is possible without acknowledging this grim fact. If these people are not replaced by real Americans, there will be no change.] -GEG

Over the weekend, a dozen people were either injured or killed by gunfire in Minneapolis. According to PowerLine's John Hinderaker, "This took place in the heart of Uptown, an entertainment and shopping district, within a few blocks of some of the city's most expensive neighborhoods."

Just a couple blocks from the shooting, this act of lawlessness was allowed just a night or two before:

Libor Jany @StribJany

Uptown

https://twitter.com/The_Barftender/status/1274410223428567041

...

Barflaan Tedoe @The_Barftender

Minneapolis has turned into Oakland

11:57 AM – Jun 20, 2020 · St Paul, MN
Twitter Ads info and privacy

40 people are talking about this

“We have seen, unfortunately, over the past several months, an uptick in violent crime in Minneapolis,” Minneapolis Police Chief Medaria Arradondo said Sunday. “We are certainly doing our best to address that.”

The Democrats who run Minneapolis, and who have run Minneapolis for nearly 50 years, just passed a veto-proof pledge to dismantle that city’s police department.

Elsewhere...

Over the weekend, there was a fatal shooting in Seattle’s CHAZ, the six-block zone left-wing anarchists have successfully liberated from the city with the mayor’s blessing.

Read full article here...

NY Mayor de Blasio Refuses to Call National Guard After Looting and Cop Beatings

New York deployed 8,000 police on Monday, and they were overwhelmed. Thousands of looters took the streets after dark and hit places all over the city. Governor Cuomo threatened to take over for de Blasio if the Mayor cannot control the violence and looting, but state troops have not yet been called. Over 700 looters were arrested, but more than 400 were immediately released without bail. [As stated in a previous report, it appears that city and state leaders have ordered police to stand down to encourage as much violence and destruction as possible to eventually justify martial law, which is the end game for ending America as a free nation.] - GEG

What a fool.

On Monday night looters and thugs beat police officers and looted the premier stores in Manhattan including Macy's Department Store.

On Tuesday New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio told reporters he would not bring in the National Guard to protect the people and businesses of New York City.

Mayor de Blasio: We do not need nor do we think it's wise for the National Guard to be in New York City, nor any armed forces.

Except the armed looters.

Read full article here...

Additional source:

<https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2020/06/02/over-400-nyc-looters-to-be-freed-from-jail-thanks-to-bail-reform-policy/>

Trump Supporters Who Were Attacked by Leftists Win Right to Sue San Jose Police for 'Stand Down' Orders at 2016 Rally

California: Three judges ruled that Trump supporters who were attacked by leftists at a 2016 Trump rally may sue the police for funneling them into a violent crowd of anti-Trump protesters and refused to protect them. The city tried to get the lawsuit dismissed by arguing that the Trump supporters should have expected to be assaulted at the rally. The judges rejected the defense, siding with Trump supporters. The police claimed that they did not intervene because it could have led to more violence and even riots.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JG0FiZTy-pk>

Fourteen victims of anti-Trump rioters at a Trump campaign rally in San Jose, California in June 2016 filed a class action federal civil rights lawsuit in July against San Jose Mayor Sam Liccardo, Police Chief Edgardo Garcia, the City of San Jose and several named and unknown attackers.

Dozens of Trump supporters were assaulted, spit on, beaten, cold-cocked, egged, chased, tackled and bloodied as they left the San Jose Trump rally by mobs of far left, Mexican nationalist, Socialist, SEIU and anarchist thugs.

One female Trump supporter was egged and spit on by hundreds of Mexican nationalists chanting "F*ck you!"

Another Trump supporter was cold-cocked with a bag of rocks while walking to his car and left bleeding.

One young Trump supporter was followed and cold-cocked and left bleeding as he walked to his vehicle.

Another woman was cornered by a mob of Mexican nationalist chanting "F*ck you!" They beaned her in the face with raw eggs and spit on her.

It was not until she lost her vision that the Marriott staff let her in.

Thanks Marriott!

(Note: The liberal Washington Post said she "taunted" them – by wearing a Trump shirt, smiling, and flashing the peace sign!)

They chased Trump supporters down the street.

They beat their heads.

Dozens of Trump supporters were beaten and bloodied.

One black Muslim chased down and tackled a young Trump supporter with his thug buddies. He later bragged about it on Twitter.

Several Trump supporters were cold-cocked and left staggering. The San Jose police were noticeably absent.

Two of the victims filing suit were featured in national reporting over the attacks on them: A teenage boy who was rabbit-punched and then chased and tackled by the mob, and a woman who was chased, cornered and pelted with eggs and bottles by the mob.

Read full article here...