

Politicians And Media Say The Greek Financial Crisis Is Over, But It's Too Late. Greece Already Is Dead

written by GEG | September 2, 2018

350,000 Greeks, mainly the young and professionals, have fled Greece, and the decreased birth rate cannot sustain the population. Greece's economy has contracted 25% due to austerity. Under a controlled government and a controlled media, the people have no idea what happened to them and, therefore, cannot act in their own interest.
