

US Dollar Set Up to Collapse as Saudi Arabia Considers Trading in Other Currencies

written by GEG | January 29, 2023

Saudi Arabia, the world's largest oil exporter, has been pegged to the US dollar for decades. The kingdom is a pillar of the petrodollar system established in the 1970s that relies on pricing crude exports in the US currency, allowing the US dollar to be the world's reserve currency.